

The national super fund for your industry

Cbus Super is the industry super fund for more than 910,000 workers who help shape Australia, no matter what their industry. Created in 1984 by workers for workers, we manage around $90 billion in members' funds making us one of the largest super funds in Australia.

Despite our size, we haven't forgotten where we came from and why we're here. We are a proud industry super fund, representing hard-working Australians. Through strong long-term returns[#], competitive fees, affordable insurance options for workers in dangerous industries and investing back into the sectors where our members work, we help our members' hard work pay off in their retirement.

Protecting what really matters

We understand the real risk of serious injury to workers in energy, building, construction and other allied industries. That's why we offer affordable default insurance options designed for your industry and provide cover for jobs that other funds may not.
